

Prof. Dr. Roland Siegwart

About

Roland Siegwart is Professor for Autonomous Mobile Robots at ETH Zurich, founding co-director of the technology transfer center Wyss Zurich and a board member of multiple high tech companies.

Career

He spent ten years as a professor at EPFL Lausanne, held visiting positions at Stanford University and NASA Ames. From 2010 to 2014 he was the Vice President of ETH Zurich.

Education

Roland Siegwart studied Mechanical Engineering at ETH Zurich. He is among the most cited scientist in robots world-wide, co-founder of more than half a dozen spin-off companies and a strong promotor of innovation and entrepreneurship in Switzerland.

List of publications by Prof. Dr. Roland Siegwart