

Andrew Garthwaite

Global Equity Strategist

About

Andrew Garthwaite is a Managing Director and Global Equity Strategist of Credit Suisse International in the Investment Banking division, based in London. He is also responsible for coordinating global regional and sector strategy for the European Equity Research department.

Career

Andrew Garthwaite joined Credit Suisse First Boston in September 2000. Prior to that position, he worked for Warburg (SG, SBC, WDR, then UBS) from 1987 to 2000, where he had a variety of roles, including Head of Asset Allocation. Prior to that, he was an economist at Morgan Grenfell and Co. He has been ranked in the top 3 by either Extel or Institutional Investor in almost every year since 1990.

Education

Andrew Garthwaite holds Degrees in Economics and Economic History from Bristol University.

Contact

Email communication.assetmanagement@credit-suisse.com

Web credit-suisse.com