

Qualified Interest Income (QII) and Qualified Short-Term Capital Gain Percentages for the Credit Suisse Asset Management, LLC. Closed End Funds (2018)

Certain Credit Suisse Asset Management, LLC. Closed End Funds generate qualified interest income and short-term capital gains that may be exempt from United States withholding tax when distributed to non-U.S. holders. The U.S. tax law permits a regulated investment company ("RIC") to designate the portion of distributions paid that represent interest-related dividends (commonly referred to as qualified interest income) and short-term gain dividends as exempt, if any, from U.S. withholding tax when paid to non-U.S. shareholders with proper documentation. Generally, QII percentages are reported on a monthly basis and qualified short-term capital gains are reported on an annual basis.

The distributions that have been identified by the Credit Suisse Asset Management Closed End Funds as exempt from U.S. withholding tax are disclosed in the table below. The information is subject to change. We recommend that you consult a professional tax advisor for further information.
